IAA Conference Top speakers on the mobility of tomorrow

The IAA MOBILITY is the new global platform showcasing the path to climate-neutral mobility. One of its focal points will be the IAA Conference – a forum for presenting and discussing ideas and concepts for the mobility of tomorrow – which will be attended by over 500 CEOs, experts, scientists and representatives of NGOs.

The IAA Conference drives the social dialog on the mobility of the future. CEOs, visionaries and personalities from society, academia, politics and the international tech scene will discuss topics with future relevance such as sustainability, diversity, rural and urban mobility, autonomous driving, artificial intelligence, electrification, mobility-as-a-service, and cybersecurity.

Selected speakers (not exhaustive):

- Dr. Herbert Diess, Chairman of the Board of Management, Volkswagen AG
- Cristiano Amon, President and CEO, Qualcomm Inc.
- Tim Leberecht, Co-Founder and CEO, House of Beautiful Business
- Dr. Reinhard Ploss, CEO, Infineon Technologies AG
- Dr. Stefan Hartung, Member of the board of management, Robert Bosch GmbH
- Dr. Wieland Holfelder, Vice President Engineering & Site Lead, Google Engineering Center in Munich

This is the IAA Conference

The IAA Conference is part of the IAA MOBILITY Summit taking place in the exhibition halls on Munich's trade show grounds from September 7 to 12, 2021. Initially designed as a conference for specialists, it will open its doors to all other visitors from Friday, September 10. The Summit will examine mobility's many and varied aspects on four stages at the heart of the exhibition. The physical conferences will be broadcast to the digital room (access is included for all trade visitors and journalists).

Journalists can be accredited for the IAA MOBILITY here, starting immediately. The Press and Media Days will be September 6 and 7, from 9.00 to 18.00 h, and the official Opening Day is September 7, from 9.00 to 18.00 h. Press tickets are valid from September 6 to 12, 2021. Visitors and professionals can purchase tickets from the online-Ticketshop here.

Under the slogan "What will move us next," the new IAA MOBILITY will highlight the digital and climate-neutral mobility of the future.
